One night farmer Brown was takin' the air,
 He locked up the barnyard with the greatest of care.

Down in the henhouse, somethin' stirred.

When he hollered "Who's there?" this is what he heard:

"There ain't no-body here but us chickens. There ain't no-body here, at all.

So, calm yourself and stop your fuss. There ain't no-body here but us.

We chickens tryin' to sleep and you butt in.

And hobble, hobble, hobble, hobble, with your chin.

There ain't no-body here but us chickens. There ain't no-body here, at all.

You're stompin' a-round and shakin' the ground, you're kickin' up an aw-ful dust.

We chickens tryin' to sleep and you butt in.

And hobble, hobble, hobble, hobble. It's a sin.

Bridge: To-morrow is a busy day. We got things to do. We got eggs to lay.

We got ground to dig and worms to scratch.

It takes a lot of settin' getting' chicks to hatch.

"There ain't no-body here but us chickens. There ain't no-body here, at all.

So, quiet yourself and stop your fuss. There ain't no-body here but us.

Kindly point that gun the o—ther way,

And hobble, hobble, hobble off and hit the hay.

Ending: "Hey, boss-man, whatcha say?"

It's ea—sy pickin's, ain't no-body here but us chickens!"
