Gray skies are gon-na clear up put on a hap-py face—

Brush off the clouds and cheer up put on a hap-py face—

Take off the gloom-y mask of trage-dy, it's not your style—

You'll look so good that you'll be glad you de-ci-ded to smile—

Pick out a pleas-ant out—look— stick out that no-ble chin—

Wipe off that "full of doubt" look— slap on a hap-py grin—

And spread sun-shine— all ov-er— the place—

Just put on— a hap-py face—

Da dum da dum da dum— put on a hap-py face—

Da dum da dum da dum— put on a hap-py face—

And if you're fee-ling cross and bicker-ish, don't sit and whine—

Think of ba-na-na splits and lic-or-ice and you'll feel fine—

I knew a girl so gloom-y— she'd never laugh or sing—

She wouldn't list—en to me— now she's a mean old thing—

So spread sun-shine— all ov-er— the place—

Just put on— a hap-py put on a hap-py—

put on a hap-py face—-
