[Verse 1 - duet]

Somewhere between your heart and mine
There's a window that I can't see through
There's a wall so high that it reaches the sky
Somewhere between me and you

[Verse 2 - his solo]

I love you so much I can't let you go
And sometimes I believe you love me
But somewhere between your heart and mine
There's a door without any key

[Verse 1 repeated - unison, with whole step key lift at end of verse]

Somewhere between your heart and mine
There's window that I can't see through
There's a wall so high that it reaches the sky
Somewhere between me and you

[Verse 3 - her solo]

Somewhere between your heart and mine
There's a love I can't understand
It's there for a while then it fades like a smile
And I'm left in the middle again

[Verse 1 repeated - duet]

Somewhere between your heart and mine
There's a window that I can't see through
There's a wall so high that it reaches the sky
Somewhere between me and you

Ritard:

Somewhere between me and you
