Beyond The Blue Neon
by Larry Boone & Paul Nelson (1988) (as played by George Strait)

Swingin' doors— sawdust floors—

A heartache drowns— as the whiskey— pours—

| Dm . . . . | G7 . . . . |

There's a hole in the wall— from some free for all—

C . . . . | Dm . G7 |

The ringin' crack of that old cue ball

I've been fallin' in here— for what seems like years—

Where the tears— of the lonely be— long—

And wonder what's go-in' on—

Be-yond the blue— ne-on—

Chorus: C7 . . . . . . . . . | . . . . . | . . . . . . . . . |

I hear tell there's people out there

Who don't know what losin' you means—

They don't have a heart that just falls a-part

At the mention of your name—

I heard they pre-tend the world didn't end

Right when I knew you were gone—

I guess life still goes on—

Be-yond the blue— ne-on—

Chorus:   C7 . . . . . . . | . . . .
