I’ll Follow the Sun
by John Lennon and Paul McCartney (1964)

One— day—, you’ll— look—, to see I’ve gone——

For to-morrow may rain so, I’ll fol— low the sun——-

Some— day—, you’ll— know—, I was the one——

But to-morrow may rain so, I’ll fol— low the sun——-

Bridge: . . . | Dm . . . | Fm . . . | C . . . | C7
And now the time has come—, and so my love, I must go——-
. . . | Dm . . . | Fm . . . | C . . . | Dm . . |
And though I lose a friend—, in the end you will know——, Oh— oh-oh

One— day—, you’ll— find—, that I have gone——

For to-morrow may rain so, I’ll fol— low the sun——-

Yes to-morrow may rain so, I’ll fol— low the sun——-

Bridge: . . . | Dm . . . | Fm . . . | C . . . | C7
And now the time has come—, and so my love, I must go——-
. . . | Dm . . . | Fm . . . | C . . . | Dm . . |
And though I lose a friend—, in the end you will know——, Oh— oh-oh

One— day—, you’ll— find—, that I have gone——
