I’ll Follow the Sun
by John Lennon and Paul McCartney (1964)

One day—, you’ll look—, to see I’ve gone——
For to-morrow may rain so, I’ll fol— low the sun———

Bridge: . . . | Dm . . . | Fm . . . | C . . . | C7
And now the time has come—, and so my love, I must go———
. . . | Dm . . . | Fm . . . | C . . . | Dm . . . |
And though I lose a friend—, in the end you will know——, Oh— oh— oh— oh

One day—, you’ll find—, that I have gone——
For to-morrow may rain so, I’ll fol— low the sun———

A 0 3 2 5
E 3 3
C 2 3
G

Yes to-morrow may rain so, I’ll fol— low the sun———

Bridge: . . . | Dm . . . | Fm . . . | C . . . | C7
And now the time has come—, and so my love, I must go———
. . . | Dm . . . | Fm . . . | C . . . | Dm . . . |
And though I lose a friend—, in the end you will know——, Oh— oh— oh

One day—, you’ll find—, that I have gone——
For to-morrow may rain so, I’ll fol— low the sun———

San Jose Ukulele Club
(v4 - 6/29/16)