I knew a man Bo-jangles and he danced for you,
in worn out shoes.

With silver hair a ragged shirt and baggy pants,
He did the old soft shoe

He jumped so high, jumped so high,
Then he lightly touched down.

Chorus:
Mister Bo-jangles, Mister Bo-jangles, Mister Bo-jangles, dance.

I met him in a cell in New Or-leans I was down and out.

He looked at me to be the eyes of age as he spoke right out.

He talked of life, talked of life, laughed, slapped his leg a step.

He said his name, Bo-jangles, then he danced a lick, across the cell.
He grabbed his pants, a better stance, oh he jumped up high, He clicked his heels.

He let go a laugh, let go a laugh, Shook back his clothes all a-round.

Chorus:
Mister Bo-jangles, Mister Bo-jangles, Mister Bo-jangles, dance.

He danced for those at minstrel shows and county fairs Throughout the south.
He spoke with tears of fifteen years how his dog and he traveled about.

His dog up and died, up and died, After twenty years he still grieved,

He said, "I dance now at every chance in honky tonks For drinks and tips."
But most of the I spend behind these county bars, 'cause I drinks a bit."

He shook his head and as he shook his head, I heard someone ask please,

Chorus:
Mister Bo-jangles, Mister Bo-jangles, Mister Bo-jangles, dance.
