Smile (Key of D)
by Charles Chaplin (1936) lyrics added in 1954 by John Turner and Geoffrey Parsons

D    F#m  Fdim7  Em7  F#dim7  C7  Bm7  A7  Bbdim7  Gm6  Dmaj7
D . . . . . . . . . . . . . . .
F#m . . . . . . . . . . . . . .
Smile, even tho-o-ugh it’s break-ing
When there are clo-o-uds in the sk--y, you’ll get by--y--y
. Em . . . . . . . . . . . . . .
If you smi-i-le through your fe--ar and sor-row,
Gm . . . . . . . . . . . . . .
Smile, and may-be--e to-mo-rr--ow
You’ll se--ee the su--un come shining thro-o-ugh, for you.
D . . . . . . . . . . . . . . .
Light up your fa--ce with glad-ness,
F#m . . . . . . . . . . . . . .
Hide every tra--ace of sad-ness
Although a te---ar may be e---e-ver so near
. Em . . . . . . . . . . . . . .
That’s the ti---i ime you must keep on try-ing
Gm . . . . . . . . . . . . . .
Smile, what’s the u-se of cry-ing,
You’ll fi-ind that li---ife is still worth-whi-ile, if yo-ou’ll just smi---ile.
