G                        Gmaj7                     Am
Beneath this snowy mantle, cold and clean,
D7              G
the unborn grass lies waiting for it’s coat to turn to green
G                              Gmaj7                  Am
The snowbird sings the song he always sings
D7              G
And speaks to me of flowers that will bloom again in spring
G                              Gmaj7                     Am
When I was young, my heart was young then, too
D7              G
Anything that it would tell me, that’s the thing that I would do
G                              Gmaj7                  Am
But now I feel such emptiness within
D7              G
For the thing I want the most in life is the thing that I can’t win.
G                        Gmaj7                     Am
Chorus: Spread your tiny wings and fly away
D7              G
And take the snow back with you where it came from on that day
G                              Gmaj7                  Am
The one I love forever is untrue
D7              G
And if I could, you know that I would fly away with you
G                        Gmaj7                     Am
The breeze along the river seems to say
D7              G
That (s)he’ll only break my heart again should I decide to stay
G                              Gmaj7                  Am
So little snowbird take me with you when you go
D7              G
To that land of gentle breezes where the peaceful waters flow.

Chorus

D7                   C, Am7                     G
Ending: Yea, if I could you know that I would fly away with you.
